EDUCATE, INNOVATE, MOTIVATE

The European Union Agency for Law Enforcement Training (CEPOL) has been working with national training institutes in the EU for over a decade, using learning as a lever to further strengthen law enforcement cooperation.

CEPOL training and learning activities encourage the development of competencies that are vital for the internal security of the Union, promote the exchange of knowledge and experiences, and support the development of long-lasting professional networks. CEPOL activities provide opportunities to stay up-to-date with the latest European and international developments and trends in the law enforcement field, especially concerning cross-border and serious international crime.

CEPOL employs a multi-layered approach to learning, with different types of training activities and online learning resources complementing one another:

Onsite activities (or residential activities), held in training institutes of the EU Member States or at CEPOL headquarters, including:

- Courses –training programmes on a particular topic with a specified number of lessons, practical exercises, study visits, discussions, group work and assignments. Estimated duration is between 2-5 days, depending on the activity (except for language courses which usually have a duration of 15 working days).
- Seminars –meetings for an intensive exchange of knowledge, experience or views on a specific topic for the encouragement and improvement of cooperation. Estimated duration is between 2-5 working days, depending on the activity.
- Conferences –large official meetings bringing together people with the same or similar work or interests to enhance their knowledge, experience, views and understanding. Duration: several days, depending on the activity.

All onsite activities require nomination by a CEPOL National Unit.

e-Learning activities, delivered via CEPOL's Law Enforcement Education platform (LEEd), including:

- Webinars –short interactive online seminars to raise awareness on a specific topic, describe new trends or demonstrate how to use a tool. They are accessible anytime in recorded version. Estimated duration is 90 minutes.
- Online modules –e-Learning knowledge resources on specific topics, which can be used by individual learners, as distance self-paced learning resources, or by participants in onsite activities, as part of a blended teaching methodology in a formal learning setting. Estimated duration is 3-6 hours. Self-paced

- Online courses –learning content available on CEPOL’s virtual learning platform, LEEed, for a limited number of participants and for a specific timeframe. It supports self-paced learning through individual exercises, peer and group activities and assignments. Estimated duration is between 2-4 weeks. Online courses require nomination by a CEPOL National Unit.
- e-Workshops –virtual classroom activities with a small group of trainees dedicated to specific and highly relevant subjects to facilitate in-depth exploration of issues that are of topical interest. Estimated duration is between 3-4 hours. e-Workshops require nomination by a CEPOL National Unit.
- e-Lessons –self-paced, interactive, explorative learning activities addressing newly emerging and current training needs in small chapters. Estimated duration is 60 minutes. Self-paced

As part of its training portfolio, CEPOL also offers the law enforcement community the possibility to participate in an exchange programme, a European mobility scheme facilitating the exchange of knowledge and experience between officials. CEPOL Exchange is a two-way cross-border programme allowing selected law enforcement institutions to host officials from another country for a period of one week, giving them the chance to exchange insights and good practices, build trust, initiate cooperation projects and foster deep and long-lasting learning and networking opportunities.

To participate in CEPOL training activities, law enforcement officials must be registered users of CEPOL’s online learning platform, LEEed. A valid LEEed account provides access to the full range of learning resources, including communities of practice and access to the repository of professional e-Journals and e-books, as well as the new catalogue of online modules for the development of personal business and soft skills. Visit LEEed: <https://leed.cepol.europa.eu/>
